

What Are Sibshops?

Fun filled events for brothers and sisters of kids with developmental differences, delays, and ongoing health care needs.

Sibshops provide opportunities for siblings of children with special health care needs to obtain peer support and education while participating in recreational activities. Siblings have an opportunity to share joys, concerns, problem solve and have a better understanding of their siblings disability.

What are the goals of a Sibshop:

Being the brother or sister of a person with a developmental disability or a chronic health care condition is a good thing for some, a not-so-good thing for others and somewhere in between for many. No matter how siblings feel about their relationship with their brother or sister, they can find peer support, education and fun at the Parent to Parent Sibshops.

Sibshops reflect the belief that siblings have much to offer one another if they are given the correct tools. At Sibshops, siblings can express their thoughts and feelings and get feedback and support from their peers in a safe, non-judgmental atmosphere.

Being a brother or a sister is a lifelong relationship, longer than any other family bond. By helping siblings deal with issues they face at a young age, Sibshops can help pave the way to strong, healthy relationships that last a lifetime.
